Are hats making a comeback? I'm not talking about the toque and woolen caps to keep out the cold Canadian winds during the winter; I'm talking about the fun and frivolous wearing of hats to special events and weddings. The rules for ladies and hats is pretty simple; because they require pins and combs to keep them in place you can keep your hat on!

Always interested in fashion, jeweller and sculptor Robert Pauly from Clayton, Ontario began collecting unusual hats before he started to create them. Combing vintage and antique shops looking for beads and decoration to make his hats, he creates whimsical and elegant pieces. The collection includes a variety of daring and dramatic daytime and evening hats. Why not come by and see if there is something you would like to wear this summer. Even better, why not join us on the 16th for the Saturday afternoon tea... I'll bring the cucumber sandwiches.
